

MINNESOTA'S TRUSTED TRADITION FOR OVER 30 YEARS

Allstar's 5-Star Difference

Thank you for considering Allstar for your home project. Over the past three decades, Allstar has developed a company and a team that are respected by both industry professionals and homeowners alike. In fact, 92% of our business comes from referrals. As a permanent fixture in Minnesota, we're a local, full-service firm that can help you maintain your home's entire exterior and interior for life; and we offer 24-hour on-call service.

As a recognized leader in the construction community, we pride ourselves on setting the standard for excellence that others follow. Below are the 5 key areas that separate us from the pack. We look forward to showing you why we are the most referred contractor in the Twin Cities.

COMMUNICATION

We believe this is the most important star in our program. Communication is the first step in meeting and exceeding your expectations. From the time you call us for an estimate to your final review of our performance, our goal is to keep you in constant communication with the appropriate people on our team. We take time to listen, and we offer a program that's flexible to fit your needs. By communicating properly, we can ensure a pleasant experience for both of us—which creates the lifetime customers we strive for

OUR PEOPLE

Allstar prides itself on the quality of its people. Our goal since day one has been to create an environment where good people have an atmosphere to thrive. The team we've created over the last three decades is the best in the business. From the person who takes your call to the Field Manager who signs off on the completed project, you will deal with honest people you can relate to. Our people enjoy going to work.

Our office staff answers the phone with a pleasant voice and handles all of the internal details of your project. Our estimators are trained to provide you with a clear and concise estimate that meets your needs and budget. The production team and foremen are trained professionals who know how to get your project completed to the highest industry standards. Finally, our managers and inspectors hold up the Allstar quality that has made us the most sought-after company in our industry.

OUR CREDENTIALS

The Better Business Bureau. Owens Corning Preferred. GAF Master Elite. Vinyl Siding Institute Certified. CertainTeed Advisory Counsel. Cedar & Shingle Shake Bureau Approved Installer. Builders Association of the Twin Cities. And the list goes on. We take pride in our investment in education and training that allows us to call ourselves experts. Our installers are trained in the newest and best installation methods and are certified to prove it. Our salesmen are up-to-speed on the latest product advancements and warranties. And our premium services division is the only choice for most high-end luxury home builders. But our most important credentials are the thousands of happy customers that refer us to their friends and neighbors every day.

OUR PRODUCTION SYSTEM

Providing the highest level of customer service is the mainframe that defines our success. Quality and fair pricing standards mean nothing unless you get the product and service that you expect. We've perfected our production system over the past 30 years, and our entire production team has one universal goal: "We need this customer for life." Our office manager, scheduling staff, and production manager work together to get your materials ordered and get the correct installers to your job on time. The field manager and field inspectors work with our foremen through our "60 Point Inspection" to ensure a universal product and customer satisfaction. This team over-delivers.

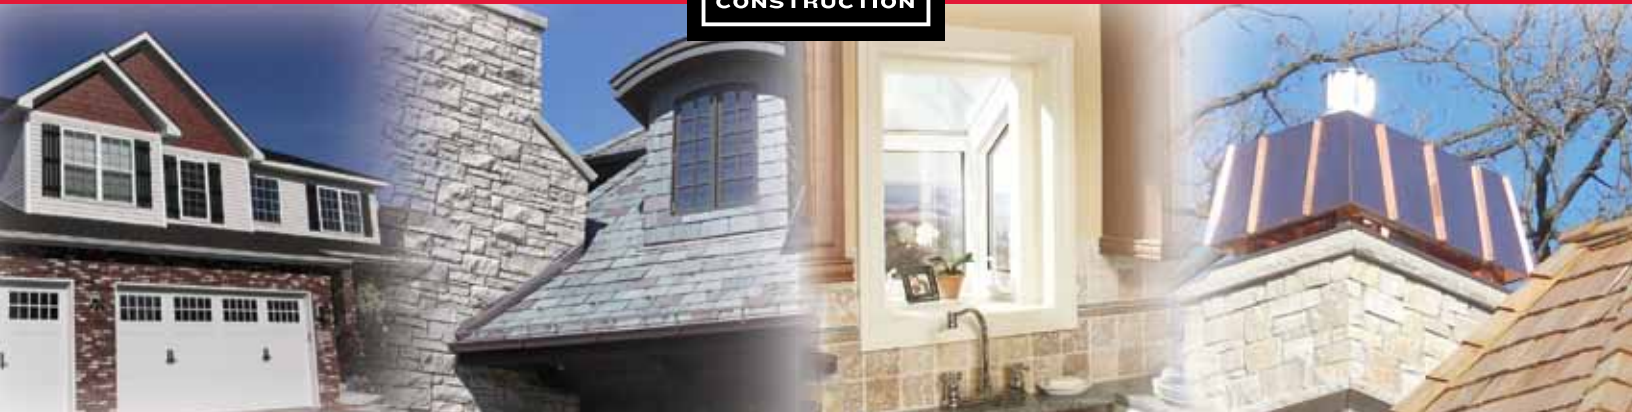

WHO WE ARE

After 30-plus years of staying ahead of the learning curve for our customers, we believe that Allstar has played a significant role in shaping and defining our community. Through quality business practices and our full-service approach to the housing and commercial building industries, Allstar is a proud leader in the local construction community. As we move into the future, we will continue to provide our customers with valuable benefits, such as 24-hour emergency service, top warranties, the best financing programs, highly trained experts, and full service. Our customers never have to gamble on another contractor for any project they may have.

Our mission is to build upon our tradition of trust by continuing to deliver the most effective communication, expert services, and the best results for Minnesota families.
